Case 1:12-CV-00008

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER GRANTING IN PART and DENYING IN PART DEFENDANTS'
MOTION TO DISMISS

13 I. INTRODUCTION

14 August Healthcare Group, LLC dba St. Michael's Medical Response ("St. Michael's") brings
15 this action against Thomas M. Manglona ("Tom"), Joaquin C. Manglona ("Jack"), Marianas Global 16 Ventures, LLC dba Priority Care ("Priority Care"), and two former St. Michael's employees, John T.
17 Pelisamen and Michael M. Takai, for alleged violations of its civil rights under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 and 18 various state tort and contract claims. (First Amended Complaint, ECF No. 26 at 1-2.) St.
19 Michael's alleges that Tom conspired with his cousin, Jack, to illegally compete with St. Michael's
20 patient transportation services. (Id.)

21 Presently before the Court is Priority Care Defendants' Motion to Dismiss First Amended
22 Complaint. (ECF No. 35, hereafter, "Motion.") After considering the relevant filings, the evidence

1 presented, and the oral arguments presented by counsel for the parties on November 15, 2012, the
2 Court finds that the allegation of conspiracy under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 as to Tom Manglona, Jack
3 Manglona and Priority Care is sufficient to withstand the Motion. However, St. Michael's has failed
4 to allege a sufficient nexus tying Defendants Pelisamen and Takai to the conspiracy and therefore,
5 the constitutional claims. Accordingly, Defendants Pelisamen and Takai will be dismissed from the 6 First Amended Complaint without prejudice.

8 II. BACKGROUND

9 In a First Amended Complaint filed on July 24, 2012 (hereafter, "FAC"), St. Michael's
10 alleges that Tom conspired with his cousin, Jack, to illegally bring down St. Michael's in order to 11 establish his own competing patient transportation services or ambulance company called Priority
12 Care. (Id. ¶ 2.) Jack is a member and registered agent of Priority Care, a limited liability company.
13 (Id. ¶¶ 7, 96.) Tom violated St. Michael's rights by exceeding his statutory and regulatory authority
14 as the Emergency Medical Services ("EMS") Coordinator, Acting Fire Chief, and Fire Chief of the 15 Department of Public Safety ("DPS") Fire Division of the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana 16 Islands ("CNMI") by (1) interfering with St. Michael's business licenses; (2) providing materially
17 false information regarding CNMI statutes and regulations to companies overseeing St. Michael's
18 Medicare compliance; (3) requiring CNMI certifications that did not and still do not exist; and (4)
19 treating other private ambulance companies and government ambulances differently. (FAC at 2.)
20 The remaining defendants conspired with Tom to harm St. Michael's business by (1) violating their 21 contractual agreements not to compete; (2) violating their contractual agreements not to solicit; (3)
22 interfering with St. Michael's contracts; (4) stealing proprietary information; and (5) stealing

1 confidential patient medical records. (Id. ¶ 2.)

2 On the basis of the allegations outlined above, Plaintiff brings eleven causes of action against
3 Defendants. The first eight causes of action allege direct constitutional violations against Tom
4 Manglona and conspiracy to violate those rights against all Defendants pursuant to 42 § 1983: (1)
5 Violation of Due Process – Licenses; (2) Conspiracy to Deprive St. Michael’s of Due Process –
6 Licenses; (3) Violation of Due Process – Provider Transaction Access Number (“PTAN”); (4)
7 Conspiracy to Deprive St. Michael’s of Due Process – PTAN; (5) Violation of Due Process –
8 Malicious Prosecution; (6) Conspiracy to Deprive St. Michael’s of Due Process – Malicious
9 Prosecution; (7) Violation of Equal Protection; and (8) Conspiracy to Violate St. Michael’s
10 Guarantee of Equal Protection. The remaining causes of action are: (9) Breach of Contract against 11 Takai and Pelisamen; (10) Tortious Interference with Existing Contract against Priority Care; and 12 (11) Conspiracy and Concert of Action for Tortious Interference against all Defendants except Tom.

13 St. Michael’s also repeats its request for a preliminary injunction restricting Defendants’
14 actions.¹ (FAC ¶¶ 202–210.) On October 12, 2012, the Court issued a Memorandum Opinion and 15 Order Denying Plaintiff’s Motion for Preliminary Injunction. (ECF No. 44.) Therefore, preliminary 16 injunction is not at issue in this motion.

17 ///

20 ¹ St. Michael’s requests an order to continue until the final determination of the case, restraining: (1) Tom from 21 investigating and harassing St. Michael’s business and business relationships; (2) Pelisamen from working for Priority
22 Care; (3) Pelisamen from soliciting St. Michael’s customers; (4) Takai from working for Priority Care; (5) Takai from 23 soliciting St. Michael’s customers; (6) Priority Care from soliciting St. Michael’s patients; (7) Priority Care from transporting and collecting fees from current and former St. Michael’s customers; (8) Jack from contacting or soliciting
St. Michael’s current customers; and (9) Jack from offering kickbacks, bribes or gratuities, however described, to current and former customers of St. Michael’s.

III. JURISDICTION

This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action under 28 U.S.C. § 1331, as the case in controversy involves federal questions, and supplemental jurisdiction over the state claims under 28 U.S.C. § 1337.

IV. STANDARDS

A. RULE 12(B)(1) JURISDICTION

On a Rule 12(b)(1) motion to dismiss, the court presumes it lacks subject matter jurisdiction until the plaintiff can prove otherwise. See Kokkonen v. Guardian Life Ins. Co. of Am., 511 U.S. 375, 377 (1994) (“It is to be presumed that a cause lies outside [the court's] limited jurisdiction, and the burden of establishing the contrary rests upon the party asserting jurisdiction.”); see also Thornhill Publ'g v. General Tel. & Elecs. Corp., 594 F.2d 730, 733 (9th Cir.1979) (“[P]laintiff will have the burden of proof that jurisdiction does in fact exist”).

B. RULE 12(B)(6) FAILURE TO STATE A CLAIM

A complaint must contain “a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2). A motion to dismiss pursuant to Rule 12(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure tests the legal sufficiency of the claims asserted in the complaint. Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6); Navarro v. Block, 250 F.3d 729, 731 (9th Cir. 2001). The court only reviews the contents of the complaint, accepting all factual allegations as true, and drawing all reasonable inferences in favor of the nonmoving party. Knievel v. ESPN, 393 F.3d 1068, 1072 (9th Cir. 2005). Notwithstanding this deference, the court need not accept “legal conclusions” as true. Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662 (2009). Moreover, it is improper for a court to assume “the [plaintiff] can prove facts that [he or she] has not alleged." Assoc. Gen. Contractors of Cal., Inc. v. Cal. State Council of Carpenters, 459 U.S. 519, 526 (1983).

V. DISCUSSION

A. SECTION 1985 CONSPIRACY

Defendants initially argued in the Motion that the FAC should be dismissed because St. Michael's failed to allege all the elements of a conspiracy under § 1985.² (Mot. at 2–3.) Both § 1983 and § 1985(3) do not create independent substantive rights; they are procedural statutes which provide a remedy for deprivation of existing rights. Great Am. Fed. Sav. & Loan v. Novetny, 442 U.S. 366, 372, 376 (1979); Chapman v. Houston Welfare Rights Org., 441 U.S. 600, 617-618 (1979). A § 1985 claim is grounded in the Thirteenth Amendment, while a § 1983 claim is grounded in the Fourth or Fourteenth Amendments. Id.

St. Michael's contends, and Defendants later conceded at the November 15, 2012 hearing (the "Hearing"), that St. Michael's never made a § 1985 claim and therefore that section is irrelevant to the discussion here. A review of the FAC reveals that St. Michael's § 1983 claims are grounded in the Fourteenth Amendment rather than the Thirteenth Amendment. Accordingly, the Court continues the discussion with respect to the § 1983 conspiracy only.

² To state a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1985(3), a plaintiff must allege: (1) a conspiracy involving two or more persons; (2) for the purpose of depriving, directly or indirectly, a person or class of persons of the equal protection of the laws; and (3) an act in furtherance of the conspiracy; (4) which causes injury to a person or property, or a deprivation of any right or privilege of a citizen of the United States. Griffin v. Breckinbridge, 403 U.S. 88, 102–3 (1971).

1 B. SECTION 1983 CONSPIRACY

2 A plaintiff attempting to assert a conspiracy between private and state actors in violation of §
3 1983 must allege: (1) an agreement between the private and public defendants to commit an illegal
4 act; and (2) an actual deprivation of constitutional rights. Gilbrook v. City of Westminster, 177 F.3d
5 839, 856 (9th Cir. 1999).

6 1. Agreement

7 Defendants contend that St. Michael's has not alleged that there is a conspiracy, that is, that
8 there was a meeting of the minds or an agreement to achieve an unlawful end. (Mot. at 9.)

9 In order to prove conspiracy under § 1983, the plaintiff must show an agreement or a meeting
10 of the minds to violate a constitutional right. Hart v. Parks, 450 F.3d 1059, 1069 (9th Cir. 2006)
11 (quoting United States Steelworkers of Am. V. Phelps Dodge Corp., 865 F.2d 1539, 1540–41 (9th 12 Cir. 1989)). A formal agreement is not necessary; an agreement may be inferred from the 13 defendant's acts pursuant to the scheme or other circumstantial evidence. See *United States v.
14 Clevenger*, 733 F.2d 1356, 1358 (9th Cir. 1984). A § 1983 civil conspiracy claim holds private
15 actors liable when they conspire with state actors to violate a person's constitutional rights. *Tower v.
16 Glover*, 467 U.S. 914, 920 (1984). “To be liable, each participant in the conspiracy need not know
17 the exact details of the plan, but each participant must at least share the common objective of the 18 conspiracy.” Crowe v. County of San Diego, 608 F.3d 406, 440 (9th Cir. 2010) (quoting *Franklin v.
19 Fox*, 312 F.3d 423, 441 (9th Cir. 2002)). Provided that there is an underlying constitutional
20 deprivation, the conspiracy claim allows imputed liability; a plaintiff may be able to impose liability
21 on one defendant for the actions of another performed in the course of the conspiracy. *Dixon v. City
22 of Lawton*, 898 F.2d 1443, 1449 (10th Cir. 1990).

1 Here, St. Michael's has alleged an agreement between Jack Manglona and state actor Tom
2 Manglona to "run St. Michael's out of business." (Opp'n at 14; FAC ¶ 98.) Jack is alleged to 3 represent Priority Care as one of its members and registered agent. (FAC ¶¶ 7, 96.) Therefore,
4 there is a clear allegation of a meeting of the minds between Tom and Jack, and through Jack,
5 Priority Care.

6 St. Michael's goes on in the FAC to allege that "[u]pon information and belief," Jack
7 Manglona was referring to himself, Tom Manglona, Takai, and Pelisamen as the people who were 8 going to "run St. Michael's out of business." (FAC ¶ 99.) Also, by asserting that "there are 9 allegations that Jack Manglona acted as an agent for Priority Care (Opp'n at 14; see also FAC ¶
10 103), St. Michael's appears to be inferring that his meeting of the minds with Tom Manglona to "run 11 St. Michael's out of business" should be imputed to Pelisamen and Takai because they worked for 12 Priority Care after ending their positions with St. Michael's.

13 However, nowhere in the FAC does St. Michael's allege that either Pelisamen or Takai
14 entered into an express or implied agreement with Tom Manglona. St. Michael's asserts that there
15 are sufficient concrete facts alleged to infer a conspiracy. (Opp'n at 14.) However, it stops short of 16 indicating what these facts are or pointing the Court to the specific allegations in the FAC. At the 17 Hearing, St. Michael's counsel admitted that there was no express agreement between Pelisamen and 18 Takai and Tom, but contended that once Pelisamen and Takai breached their covenant not to 19 compete, they automatically entered into the conspiracy.

A thorough reading of the FAC does not reveal any clear indication that Pelisamen or Takai had a meeting of the minds with Tom Manglona to deprive St. Michael's of its constitutional rights.

1 The Court is not satisfied that merely breaching their covenant not to compete, if proven, is
2 sufficient to show a “common objective” of illegally interfering with St. Michael’s business.

3 Accordingly, the Court finds that St. Michael’s has sufficiently alleged a conspiracy between
4 Tom Manglona and Jack Manglona/Priority Care, but not between the remaining Defendants Takai
5 or Pelisamen. For this reason, Defendants Takai and Pelisamen’s motion to dismiss the conspiracy
6 claims is GRANTED.

7 2. Deprivation of Rights

8 a. Due Process – Interference with Business License

9 St. Michael’s first claims that it has a clearly defined property right to its CNMI license and 10 the right to operate its business without unwarranted and unlawful governmental interference.
11 (Opp’n at 15.) Tom Manglona and, through the conspiracy, the Priority Care Defendants interfered
12 with those rights. (Id.) Defendants contend that St. Michael’s has failed to allege any facts showing
13 that it was denied a business license or that its business license was revoked. (Reply at 2.) This is in 14 light of St. Michael’s claim in the FAC that it was at all times relevant to the complaint a fully 15 licensed and certified ambulance company. (FAC ¶¶ 3, 12–13.)

16 “[T]he revocation or removal of a license or certificate that is essential in the pursuit of a 17 livelihood requires procedural due process under the Fourteenth Amendment.” Stidham v. Peace
18 Officer Stds. & Training, 265 F.3d 1144, 1150 (10th Cir. 2001). St. Michael’s alleges that Tom
19 Manglona’s actions were designed to deny St. Michael’s the ability to conduct its rightfully licensed 20 business and interfere with St. Michael’s ability to provide services to its clients. (Opp’n at 15–16;
21 FAC 33–90, 141, 148.)

Indeed, St. Michael's does not allege that its business license was ever revoked. It does, however, claim that Defendants conspired to run St. Michael's out of business. (Opp'n at 14–15.) Interference with business operations can be a due process violation under § 1983. In the Ninth Circuit case A & A Concrete, Inc. v. White Mountain Apache Tribe, plaintiffs alleged that the sheriff conspired with private parties to put the plaintiffs (a cement company) out of business by serving summonses, complaints, and garnishments that the defendants knew to be invalid. 676 F.2d 1330, 1332–33 (9th Cir. 1982). The Ninth Circuit deemed this to be valid claim under § 1983. Id. In the Eleventh Circuit case Espanola Way Corp. v. Meyerson, the court found that plaintiff had a due process cause of action under § 1983 where the plaintiff alleged issuance of “344 building code violations . . . as well as numerous fire violations,” all of which were unfounded and issued “to harass and drive [the plaintiff’s h]otel out of business.” 690 F.2d 827, 828 (11th Cir. 1982).

In both of the above cases, there was no requirement that the plaintiffs were actually driven out of business. Further, defendants in those cases did not interfere with plaintiffs’ business licenses, but rather the operation of their businesses. Similarly, St. Michael’s has claimed that Defendants have taken action to run St. Michael’s out of business. There are allegations that Defendant Tom Manglona interfered with St. Michael’s PTAN by drafting a letter that was eventually sent to Palmetto GBA (the Medicare contractor responsible for paying St. Michael’s claims; hereafter, “Palmetto”) informing Palmetto that St. Michael’s was “not licensed or certified in the CNMI” as an ambulance service. (FAC ¶ 67.) This resulted in the revocation of St. Michael’s PTAN. (FAC ¶ 66.) Further, St. Michael’s alleges that Defendants interfered with St. Michael’s vehicle registration. (FAC ¶¶ 33–51, 82, 124, 128.) These actions, if proven, obstruct St. Michael’s ability to conduct business.

1 Accordingly, St. Michael's has sufficiently alleged a § 1983 claim for governmental
2 interference with its business operations.

b. Due Process – Provider Transaction Access Number (PTAN).

Next, St. Michael's argues that it had a clearly defined property right to its PTAN, and that Defendants interfered with that right. (Opp'n at 16.)

¶¶ 28, 65.) In November 2010, after performing an investigation that was prompted by a letter that Tom allegedly drafted and later receiving information from Tom that “St. Michael’s was not licensed in the CNMI,” Palmetto revoked St. Michael’s PTAN. (FAC ¶¶ 65–69.)

St. Michael's alleges that Tom Manglona's false information to Palmetto that St. Michael's lacked proper certification and licenses violated St. Michael's due process rights. (FAC 68–69.) St. Michael's further alleges that Tom Manglona secretly complained to Palmetto knowing that St. Michael's would likely lose its PTAN number. (Opp'n at 17.) The loss of St. Michael's PTAN number was "caused" by Tom's wrongful acts, thus making him and other Defendants liable. (Id.)

Defendants argue that any interference was caused by the letter from Commissioner Tudela that was sent to Palmetto and not by Tom Manglona himself. (Reply at 3.) This argument is tenuous at best because the FAC clearly states that Palmetto's investigator, Norm Seigel, spoke on the phone with a CNMI official believed to be Tom Manglona, who informed him that St. Michael's was not licensed in the CNMI. (FAC ¶¶ 65–69.) Thus, even without the letter, there are allegations of direct interference with St. Michael's PTAN eligibility by Tom Manglona.

1 C. “CLASS OF ONE” EQUAL PROTECTION

2 Finally, St. Michael’s claims that it had a clearly defined property right to its CNMI license
 3 and Tom Manglona interfered with that right while simultaneously favoring other ambulance
 4 companies in violation of St. Michael’s right to equal protection of the laws. (Opp’n at 17.)

5 To succeed on a “class of one” claim, St. Michael’s must demonstrate that the Defendants (1)
 6 intentionally (2) treated St. Michael’s differently than other similarly situated property owners, (3)
 7 without a rational basis. See Gerhard v. Lake Cnty., 637 F.3d 1013, 1022 (9th Cir. 2011).

8 Here, St. Michael’s has alleged in the FAC that Tom Manglona intentionally treated Priority
 9 Care differently than St. Michael’s in terms of interfering with its ambulance registration and 10 business licensing. (Opp’n at 18; FAC 173–177.)

11 Defendants argue that there could not have been preferential treatment because at the time
 12 Tom Manglona communicated to Plaintiff regarding ambulance registration and “star of life” decals,
 13 Priority Care had not come into existence. (Reply at 3.) Further, Defendants point out in St.
 14 Michael’s FAC that St. Michael’s vehicles, as well as DPS’s Fire Division, and Priority Care’s
 15 vehicles were registered as ‘vans’ and thus there was no preferential treatment. (Reply at 3.) While 16 this is true (see FAC ¶¶ 43, 89, 126), Defendants have not pointed to any case law to show that the 17 treatment of the different entities must be simultaneous. The alleged interference of St. Michael’s
 18 vehicle registration occurred in 2009 (see FAC ¶ 42–45), and Priority Care was not established until 19 March, 2010 (FAC ¶ 100).³ However, Priority Care was established one month before the St.
 20 Michael’s received notice that it was under investigation by Palmetto and several months before St.

23 ³ Jack first established Saint Jude Supplies and Services, LLC, in 2010, which later became Priority Care. (FAC ¶¶ 101.)

1 Michael's PTAN was revoked. (FAC ¶¶ 65, 66, 100.) Both companies are similarly situated in that
2 they are both private companies, offering non-emergency medical transport services and use
3 ambulances with blue lights. St. Michael's alleges that it was treated differently from Priority Care
4 in that Defendants interfered with St. Michael's, but not Priority Care's, vehicle registration and 5 Medicare account eligibility. Accordingly, St. Michael's has alleged sufficient facts for the "class of 6 one" equal protection claim.

7 D. SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION

8 Defendants contend that upon dismissal of the 1983 conspiracy allegation, the Court should 9 dismiss the case for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. (Mot. at 10.) Here, since the 1983
10 conspiracy allegation survives at least against Tom and Jack Manglona, the Court will retain 11 supplemental jurisdiction as to the remaining claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1337. However, since 12 St. Michael's has failed to allege a sufficient nexus to tie Pelisamen and Takai to the conspiracy and 13 therefore the federal claims, the Court will dismiss Pelisamen and Takai from those claims and 14 decline to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over the remaining state law claims against them.
15

16 VI. CONCLUSION

17 For the foregoing reasons, Defendants' Motion to Dismiss the First Amended Complaint
18 with respect to Defendants Tom Manglona, Jack Manglona, and Priority Care is DENIED, and with 19 respect to Defendants Pelisamen and Takai is GRANTED for the second, fourth, sixth, eighth, ninth,
20 and eleventh causes of action. Defendants Pelisamen and Takai are dismissed without prejudice.
